Dear Parents,
We at the Saratoga Sun made every effort to include all the Santa letters. There were a few that we not only could not read at all, but that had the signatures cut off on the photocopies. We apologize if your child's letter was left off.

The Saratoga Sun thanks Santa's helpers and the involved teachers who help gather Santa letters.

Please take the time to see what companies cared enough to sponsor these letters.

All of these people and organizations make printing these letters possible.

Acts of kindness ... Continued from page 5

of HEM elementary. There is a resident who wished to be anonymous who bought 46 hams for needy families and coordinated with the Hanna Marshal's office to have them delivered on Monday.

The Hanna Senior Center is promoting adopt a senior for Christmas. There are seniors that are far from loved ones, so the senior center is encouraging those who wish to make treats and deliver them to make the holidays less lonely for those seniors who can't be near family.

In Saratoga, Patty Hastings, a volunteer clerk at Bridge Street Bargains, said she has witnessed some amazing moments of holiday spirit.

"There was a family, that doesn't have a lot, but they are doing better this year and they saw our Christmas tree that was ready to go with ornaments for $20," Hastings recounted. "So the parents got the kids together while they were in the store and discussed giving the tree to another family that couldn't afford a tree. They remembered what it was like to not have a tree during Christmas and decided as a family to have so less gifts, so this family could have a tree."

Hastings said she almost cried when she heard them doing this. This was not the only act of kindness she witnessed. Hastings said a customer overheard a person not being able to afford an item in the store and after the person left, a customer who was purchasing gifts next in line, paid for the item and asked to be anonymous even though they wanted help.

"It just makes me so happy to see this happen," Hastings said.

The acts of kindness during this time of year are not surprising when one considers the people doing this are Carbon County's residents.
