

CCSD No. 2

EHS

Upon completion of the ceremonies, the class of 2018 throw their hats into the air to celebrate.

Micaiah Pantle looks to her family as she tells those assembled that her brothers are her heroes.

Photos by Joshua Wood

Mary Martin steps up to the podium to announce winners of two scholarships.

Encampment High School choir members serenade the graduating seniors on Friday night.

Micaiah Pantle delivers her Valedictorian's address Friday.

Members of the Class of 2018 chuckle during Box's speech.

Encampment K-12 school staff line up to give the seniors a final farewell on Friday.

Rachel Stubbs looks satisfied after receiving her diploma.

Chuck "C.J." Box tells the graduating class the secret to success.

H.E.M

The HEM graduation class of 2018 gets ready to receive their diplomas.

Caycee Born, speaks first at the HEM graduation on Saturday.

Photos by Mike Armstrong

The HEM choir sings at the HEM graduation ceremony on Saturday.

Kayle Woods, HEM Valedictorian, tells the audience of years at HEM and how she grew as a person.

Graduation Weekend

SM/HS

The Saratoga Middle/High School graduating class of 2018.

Senior Jazz Players, from left, Garrett Wallace, Shawn O'Toole, Kevin Sharp and Tyler Williams wrap up "Hunting Wabbits."

It's finally time for the graduating class of 2018 to let their mortarboards fly Saturday.

Left, Seniors sign class artwork, below, as Kennison Spiering gives her Vaedictorian's address Saturday.

Photos by Keith McLendon

Kennison Spiering presents the vaedictorian address.

Jaxon King gives his Saluatorian speech Saturday.

SM/HS Principal Linda Butler presents co-Salutatorians Gage Bartlett, right, and Jaxon King, below, medals for their work.

Butler puts the Vaedictorian medal on Kennison Spiering during Saturday's commencement ceremonies.

From left, Jacob Snell, Kieran Neville, Kailey Hytrek and Kaylyn Hunter perform "Softly as I leave you" Saturday.

A large group was present for Saturday's commencement ceremony in the Saratoga Middle/High School Gym.

Seniors turn their tassels to symbolize graduation Saturday.

The HEM graduating class of 2018 gets ready to leave their high school for the last time.

David Freeman stands up to be recognized for scholarships he received.

Several audience members were touched during HEM's commencement ceremonies Saturday.