using outlet passes and I'm all a part of it." Phillips enjoys being a part of the Wyoming basketball system and family. It does take a lot of time being at the practices and taking the trips to other schools. Despite the time commitment, Phillips was on the Dean's Honor Roll last semester and expects to be on it again this semester. "It is a great experience." Phillips said. "I am making tons of connections in the field I am going to school for. Being manager is next closest thing to be able to play in college." Phillips said, "When you graduate, you can be put in a graduate assistance program to universities you have interest in and they will pay for your masters degree." That is strong incentive for Phillips to keep his grades up. "I never thought I would be in this position after I left high school. Not being able to play basketball at the NCAA level, this is the next best thing," Phillips said. "I still get to play basketball while I study, be a part of a team and it helps me realize my dream to coach." As for March madness, Phillips believes it is likely Villanova will
