INSURANCE | WILDFIRES: PROTECT YOUR LOVED ONES & PROPERTY

While it seems early to discuss wildfires, some states are already battling Mother Nature and the destruction wildfires can bring. The safety and well-being of people and animals are always the top priority. However, residents also must prepare for potential damage to their homes and belongings.

Keep your family safe

- Stay informed about wildfire developments and changes including weather changes and winds that could rapidly impact your area. Sign up for city and county phone alerts. Regularly check radio, internet, television, and newspapers for fire alerts and updates. Develop a phone tree to keep others informed.
- Have an evacuation and communication plan. Know your evacuation route and alternatives. Have a designated place to stay in case you cannot return immediately.

- If you must evacuate, follow authorities' instructions. Turn on sprinklers and turn off the main gas line, if possible.

Before a crisis

Prepare your home and grounds

- Install non-flammable groundcover such as stone or rock and plant nothing within 5' of a house, cabin, or structure.
- Prevent excessive vegetation by regular mowing and trimming; remove pine needles and debris.
- Remove all trees within 15-30' of structures.
- Keep firewood at least 30' away from structures.
- Enclose or screen decks with metal mesh screening. Do not store anything under decks.

- Have an on-site water source readily available for fire suppression.
- Propane tanks should be at a safe distance, based on universal building codes and the size/type of the propane tank.
- Make sure fire extinguishers are accessible and everyone knows how to use them.

Review your homeowner coverage

- Talk to your agent. Make sure you understand your deductibles and the current market value and replacement cost of your property. Auto policies need comprehensive coverage to cover damage caused by fire.
- Store insurance contact information securely in a fireproof safe, a safe deposit box, or online.
- Make regular updates to your home inventory. Update photos and video of your house and contents. Don't forget what may be in closets, drawers, and storage spaces. Keep receipts or other proof of high-value items. Note the make, model, price, and other details that might help when filing a claim.
- Make sure your policy covers living expenses for temporary housing, such as a hotel, if you cannot return home. Keep receipts for temporary living expenses. These may be reimbursable after meeting your deductible.
- Consider construction or building coverage to replace or repair your home to meet current building laws or ordinances.
- Consider special coverage for valuables including jewelry, furs, collectibles, computers, antiques, musical instruments, and high-value possessions that exceed normal policy limits.

During A Wildfire

- Stay up-to-date. Monitor news and subscribe to local text or email alerts.
- Evacuate quickly. Wildfires can move rapidly. Be especially cautious during hot and windy weather conditions. If ordered to evacuate during a wildfire, do so immediately.

- Call 911. Provide the location and description of the fire if it isn't already being monitored.
- Do not return to an evacuated area until authorities allow re-entry. After A Wildfire:
 - Proceed with caution. Hazards, including hotspots, may exist in burned areas. Wear leather gloves, protective clothing, and thick-soled shoes. Use local alerts, radios, and other sources such as apps from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) or the American Red Cross to get timely information.
 - Photograph property damage. Call your insurance agent or claims hotline as soon as it is safe. Your policy might require notification within a certain time frame.
 - Filing a claim
 - Immediately contact your insurance company or agent to report your loss. Take reasonable steps to protect against further loss, but do not rush into repairs or rebuilding before getting instructions from your adjuster. Your insurance company may need to do an inspection before repairs begin.
 - Do not throw away damaged property until your adjuster tells you.
 - Before you hire a contractor, verify their license. Ask to see their license, check with your local Better Business Bureau or similar entity.
 - Avoid fraud. Unfortunately, home repair fraud is common after disasters. Be wary of aggressive contractors or demands for up-front repair payment. If you have concerns, contact the Wyoming DOI.

Once you've filed a claim

- Prepare a detailed list of destroyed or damaged items. Give a copy of any pictures or videos of your home to the adjuster to help with your claim.
- Keep copies and records of all communication between you and the adjuster.
- Gather and submit receipts of expenses from the time of your loss.
